

Retirement/Boomers -- Socializing for Memory Problems

Contributed by By Compilation
Friday, 06 June 2008

Retirement/Boomers -- By Tara Parker-Pope in Blogs.NYTimes.com -- "Socializing Appears to Delay Memory Problems" -
- In this article, Parker-Pope addresses a recent article from the July issue of The American Journal of Public Health, which indicates that there are benefits to engaging in socializing for those who are afflicted with memory problems. Since the article is a blog, over four dozen responses trail the article. Very interesting comments. (Read)